Headline:
Rain this evening and tonight clearing by dawn.

This Evening and Tonight:
Wet for many this evening, although drier further south. Through the early hours a rain band, turning heavy at times, will pass over from the north. Becoming largely clear and dry by dawn. Windy and cold with potential frost. Minimum temperature -1 deg C (30 deg F).

Friday:
A bright start to the day with patchy cloud clearing southern parts allowing most to have a fine and sunny day. Winds will be light but feeling cold too. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
These colder conditions are set to continue this weekend with many dry and sunny spells, however with scattered showers at times too. Cloudier on Monday with showers more widespread.
